Winter Depression

I don't know about you, but this post-Holiday time of year tends to bring on various levels of depression for me. I also recently read that United States adults are the most unhappy they have been in 50 years. And Christians are not exempt from this condition. In your group of well-meaning friends or family someone might simply offer, "Just pray and read your Bible." But what if you do everything you know and are still depressed. I believe God can bring good out of these situations.

Whether you are aware of it or not, this period of discouragement may be providing the opportunity for genuine empathy and meaningful communication for friends, family, and coworkers with similar struggles. As you encounter emotional struggles (your own or others) be prepared to talk about your own experience. Have open and honest conversations with brothers and sisters in Christ.....and think about how difficult it would be to navigate depressing times without the purpose that Christ provides to us all.

"And we know that for those who love God all things work together for good for those who are called according to his purpose."

-Romans 8:28

-Paul Holdren

Walk Worthy Planning Meeting -Following worship

VISITING?

We're glad you've joined us today as we speak to God in our prayers and our praise, and as we listen together as He speaks to us through His Word, the Bible. If this is your first time here, we extend to you a warm welcome. We are thankful that you have chosen to visit with us this morning.

At the conclusion of the service if you have any questions about our church or about becoming a Christian, please speak to our minister or with one of the elders who will be available at the rear of the auditorium.

Thank you for visiting and we hope you will feel welcome enough to come again.

INFORMATION FOR ALL

-As a courtesy to others, please silence your cell phones so as not to disrupt the worship service.
