October 22, 2023

This morning I want to share a passage from Max Lucado's book, "A Gentle Thunder."

I don't know if you think a lot about heaven, but the older I get, my thoughts often go to what Heaven will be like. I found this to be incredibly encouraging.

"Some time ago I indulged myself and ordered two shirts from a tailor. I selected the cloth; the tailor measured me and several weeks later I received two shirts made especially for me. There is a big difference between these two shirts and all the other shirts in my closet. The tailor-made shirts were made specifically for me. The other shirts were made for any of a hundred thousand or so males my size. But not these two, they were made just for me. As a result, they fit perfectly. Such is the promise of heaven! It was made for us. Jesus invites to us to "receive the kingdom God has prepared for you since the world was made." (Matthew 25:34)

The problem with this world is, it doesn't fit. Oh, it will do for now, but it isn't tailor-made. We were made to live with God, but on earth we live by faith. We were made to live Holy lives, but this world is stained by sin. We were made to live forever, but on earth we only live for a moment. This world wears like a borrowed shirt. Heaven, however, will fit like one tailor-made!"

I never indulged in a tailor-made shirt, but I look forward to heaven, that is custom made for me.

~Paul
