Love through Actions

“Dear Children, let us not love with words or speech, but with Actions and truth.” 1 John 3:18

It is often so much easier to simply speak our concern, sympathy, or even love for each other. It may be a statement like, “I’m praying for you, or is there anything I might do for you.” But let’s not just give lip service. Perhaps following up with a meal, or a financial gesture, or even the sacrifice of our time, choosing to sit and listen. In our world where busyness is worn as a badge of honor, think of the impact you might have by choosing to be present with someone in need. When tempted to let a few words check the box for showing Christ’s love, let us remember Christ’s command in John 3, “My command is: Love each other as I have loved you.”

God didn’t just say he loved the world, He gave his one and only Son so that whoever believed in him could have eternal life. God’s sacrifice of His son is incomprehensible to me as a parent, but He willingly gave us Jesus so that we might live.

As we remember God’s love and Jesus’ sacrifice for us, may our words be followed with actions that prove our love. The next time an opportunity is presented to help someone in need, let’s push ourselves to not just speak, but to show our love for each other.
